The ways in which "The Damned Human Race" shows humans to be lower than animals is eye opening, and gives Twain the ability to criticize people while retaining the spirit of humor. Because people generally do not enjoy being criticized, using humor helps to illuminate negative traits of humanity without being directly offensive.

The Damned Human Race Mini Writing Mark Twain stressed the idea of how man kind may not be the highest form of animals. This is meant to say that man isn't the most supreme animal there is. By using experiments Twain's theory was easily proven. Random animals such as a cat, a dog, a rabbit, a fox, a goose, a squirrel, doves, and a monkey were all thrown in a cage and left for two days.
